

My goal is to support you in achieving a result that is favorable and fair to you.

My approach is holistic and designed to protectively and wisely guide you on a path with which you are comfortable and confident.

My process focuses on overall strategy – creating a framework that encompasses every aspect, from finding you the best professional referrals to determining what information to share with each and when to share it.

You owe it to yourself and to your loved ones to make these life-altering choices as intelligently as possible; if your marriage involves substantial assets or young children, you cannot afford anything but the best result.

Your outcome will be positively altered by my services.

"Peggy's intelligence and knowledge of the divorce process are exceptional. She approaches problem solving with a calm and measured hand. Her guidance gave me the skills and courage to confidently complete my divorce and to move my life forward, as difficult as it was. I trust her judgment implicitly."

Paula A.

"Ms. Brammer wasted no time getting to the heart of the matter. She has a rare ability to distill and simplify complicated issues and get the job done with a savings of time and money."

John W.

"Peggy uses her knowledge as well as her intuition to see the big picture and helped me sort through this quagmire. Without her services I would have struggled to process everything I was facing: the often confusing aspects of the law, my financial circumstances, and my emotional chaos. Her approach helped me feel whole during a time when I often found it hard to breathe."

Jennifer B.

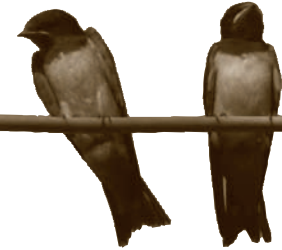

"When you combine Peggy's legal background, personal experience with divorce, insight and sensitivity with her ability to strategize and anticipate outcomes, her role becomes invaluable. I sought Peggy's guidance through every step of my divorce and her consult streamlined the entire process. With Peggy, you are not facing your divorce alone. Whether it's advice, referrals or a compassionate 'ear' you're looking for, Peggy has the skills and resources that will make your partnership with her 'value-added' and help mitigate the challenges of this difficult time."

Strategy • Guidance • Support

There are major questions you must ask yourself during this period . . .

Are you facing divorce?

Struggling to prevent divorce?

Wondering where to begin?

The process of divorce can be painful, expensive, and life altering. Yet there is a 'right and wrong' way to proceed: the right strategy positively affects 1) how much money you will spend on lawyers and other professionals, 2) how quickly you will get through your divorce, 3) how much heartache you will suffer, and 4) the ultimate outcome.

My services as a consultant during your divorce will provide a framework that guides you through the entire process. I will direct you to the best experts and strategize with you each aspect of your case, legal, financial and emotional. You will improve the overall result and save substantial money with my consultation.

“Is it best to hire my own lawyer, a joint mediator or a collaborative lawyer?”

As a former litigator, I understand that this decision can be agonizing. For a non-lawyer without guidance, it can feel almost impossible to sort out. This decision can ultimately determine the outcome of your divorce. I can help you make this decision, refer you to the best qualified professional for your needs and save you money by preparing you for the process.

“Should I enlist the help of a therapist?”

During this difficult time you may want emotional support for yourself and/or your children. You may also wish to explore the possibility of saving your relationship. I will provide you with hand-selected referrals to the best therapists and marital counselors in the area.

“How do I prepare myself financially and what type of financial specialist will best suit my unique needs?”

Your goal is to preserve your assets pre- and post-divorce. Determining whether you need a financial planner, an investment advisor or an accountant can be a daunting task, and finding the appropriate professional can be even more difficult. I can guide you through this maze and help you select from the best experts in the business to guarantee your assets are protected.

“How can I cope with this overwhelming change?”

If divorce is inevitable, you will unquestionably face change. Life coaches and professionals exist who can help ensure that the impact of these changes is positive. I will help you find an appropriate life coach or other specialist to guide you through this transition.
